Oklahoma's Star Twirler Meets His Waterloo.

Exploded in Seventh Inning on Wednesday.

SOX THEN SCORED SIX.

Genial Southpaw Gave Way to Another Pitcher.

Batting of Davis Feature of the Contest.

By a batting rally in the seventh inning of Wednesday's game, Topeka took the second of the series from the Oklahoma City Mets. Every pitcher has an off day occasionally and yester-day proved to be one of those events for Pitcher Robert Bandy, the south-paw, whose sunlit facial expression

Mr. Bandy started in as is his usua custom by striking out the first man up. For five innings he held the In dian sign on the locals but after that it was all off and Topeka batted him out of the box in the seventh inning.

Mr. Roy Arnold, the handsome slab artist of the Sox, toed the rubber for the local bunch and the Mets were "candy for him" all afternoon. Only four hits were secured from him and but on one occasion did connections come close together. This was in the third and one runner crossed the gutta percha.

Mr. Bandy Was Hit Hard in the

For five or six innings the game was pretty one and the fans got all the wanted. The Mets were the first score. In the third inning Goes of the voluminous proportions hit one to cetter field. White bunted and Arnothrew to Ragan to catch Herr Wilheld Edward. Goes at second but State threw to Ragan to catch Herr Wilhelf Edward Goes at second, but Stevi obligingly let go of the ball, and bot men were safe. Bandy bunted an Goes was thrown out at third throug the agency of Mr. Arnoid. With tw men on and one out, Johnny Pendr hit a single and White pranced hom with the only tally of the entire after noon for the Mots.

With Oklahoma City with the big gest end of the stick the game dragger along until the sixth inning, when the Champs opened up for business. Davi hit safe and was sacrificed to second by Olson. Abbott fanned but Ragan hi

Ragan went out in an attempt to sho Jack Henry how to run bases. This tied the score. But thing were not to be in a tied-up state ver long. In the seventh inning Colone Runkel was the first gentleman for Mr. Bandy to contend with. Runke hit a single over second base off th Mr. Bandy to contend with. Runkel hit a single over second base off the "Laughing Gallery" and Wooley bunted. Bandy threw the ball to second but made a poor peg and Runkel was safe. Erwin also tried the bunting game with the result that Bandy threw the ball to Pendry to get Runkel a little bit after Mr. Runkel reached the station and the bases were well occupied. At this juncture Price, the new pitcher who took Spec's place, made good by hitting over the infield for one base, scoring Runkel and Wooley. Arnold helped out in the good cause by hitting another single and Erwin trotted home. Red Davis cleaned up the bases with a triple and scored on Olson's single. It was at this psychological moment that Manager McFarland sent McClintock into the box. Abbott popped up a fly to White and Ragan hit into a double play retiring the side.

McClintock showed signs of losing control in the eighth. With one down Wooley hit safe and then McClintock flied the bases by walking both Erwin and Price. This ended it for McFarland went in himself and Arnold hit into a double play. into a double play.
